

Retail

Moncler Debuts in Mexico

Share

November 9, 2018

Italian luxury brand Moncler has opened its first storefront in Mexico within the Artz Pedregal shopping mall in Mexico City. WWD reports that the 1,938-sq.-ft. store is designed by French architectural team Gilles & Boissier. The elegant interior design combines dark wood boiserie embossed with floral motifs as well as glass and metal elements. Gray Carnico marble and white Calacatta marble are installed on the walls and floors, while a geometric pattern accents the lighting installation crafted by Belgian artist Bardula.

More News

Chipotle to Test New Restaurant Design

December 19, 2019 • retail

Newport Beach, Calif.-based fast-casual concept Chipotle Mexican Grill has revealed plans to test a new restaurant design.

Full Story >

The Container Store Opens New Custom Closets Outpost

December 19, 2019 • retail

Coppell, Texas-based storage and organization solutions retailer The Container Store reopened a location in the Greater Dallas Area.

Full Story >

Ralph Lauren to Launch New Milan Flagship

December 19, 2019 • retail

New York-based fashion brand Ralph Lauren has announced plans to launch a new World of Ralph Lauren flagship.

Full Story >

Industry Related Content

Magazine

SubscribeDigital EditionArchives

Newsletter Signup

Sign up to receive the latest retail store news, store design trends and store openings, daily.

Sign Up

Sections

- News
- Galleries
- Projects
- Products
- Events

Tools

- About Us
- Contact Us
- Advertising
- Subscribe
- Whitepapers
- Newsletter
- Industry Jobs
- Buyers' Guide

Brands

- design:retail
- GlobalShop